CLARENCE HENSEL, SURPRISED
Upon arriving at his home in Richmond, Ind., last Wednesday evening Clarence Hensel was greeted by a large number of his friends who assembled to congratulate him upon the event of his twentieth birthday anniversary. The surprised host was taken immediately into the gay life and a series of merry games and diversions were inaugurated by the young folks. A lunch was served during the evening and when concluded the host was made the recipient of a number of gifts, a silver ring of handsome design being one of the prettiest of these. The young folks were: Misses Clara Mautz, Minnie Pether, Alice Ruth, Stabel Beckel, Bertha Pether, Emma Meyer, Peter Bachmann, Miss Kay, Ethel Graham, Emma Ruth, Bertha Hensel, Messrs. Harley Smith, Ellis Epley, Edgar Mack, Albert Ruth, Ursula Graham, Roy Smith, Harry Beckel, William Loyer, Alvin Augustine, Fred Chapman, Edward Smith, Fred Loyer, Harvey Eickhorn, Owen McDonald, Frank Stoss, Harold Denner, Oscar Ruth, Helen Chapman, John Eickhorn, Harold McDonald, Henry Wisel, John Loyer, Clarence Hensel, William Hensel, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hensel, and Mr. and Mrs. William Hensel.

Club Dance Pleasant Affair.
Those who attended the dance given by the Monday night club at the "Holler" hall, last evening, enjoyed one of the week's charming social affairs. Informally characterized the whole of the evening, McNaul's orchestra dispensed music for the dance numbers and a buffet lunch was served during the evening. There were thirty couples in attendance, the number including Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fickenger of Gallon who are club members and their guest, Miss Vester, of Chargin Falls, Ohio.

Blue Ribbon Club.
The home of Mrs. George Oiler was very attractive yesterday afternoon for the meeting of Blue Ribbon club and the members gathered about the rooms at three o'clock for the forty-eighth session of embroidery work and social intermingling. The afternoon was a delightful one. Tea featured the twilight hour. Chrysanthemums and ferns formed the center piece at the well appointed table and covers were placed for the members and Mrs. William Anderson of Columbus; Mrs. James Blain and Miss Neale Gray of Delaware.

An Oyster Supper.
The home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Baumgartner on Windsor street, was the scene of a very merry gathering, Wednesday evening, when ten Democratic members were banqueted by ten Republicans. Previous to the election of Claude Walters as mayor, twenty of the employees of the Marion Room Showed laid a bet as to the outcome of the election, and an oyster supper was to be furnished by the ten losing men. The bet was paid Wednesday evening as has been stated, and Mayor elect Walters was the honor guest. A smoker following the serving of a three course supper, and the evening was thoroughly enjoyed by both losers and winners.

Misses Warrington's Honor Guest.
One of last evening's most charming affairs was the dress up party given by the Misses Cox and Leora Warrington at their John street home. The affair honored Miss Sybil Fitch who has been their guest for the past several days.

The guests arrived about 5 o'clock wearing costumes planned to elicit much merriment and a diversity of these being in evidence. The evening was spent with games in keeping with the nature of the affair and music was contributed by some of the girls. At ten o'clock all repaired to the dining room where a delicious lunch was served buffet fashion. The table was charming with its pretty appointments.

The guests were: Mrs. Stuger, Misses Sarah Irwin, Iva Irwin, Nora Fargher, Minnie Boker, Hazel Styer, Julia Tellingier, Blanche Porter and the honor guest.

Mrs. McNeill Entertains Club.
The members of the L. E. C. club held an agreeable meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank McNeill on David street. Besides the members, Misses Alma Rish, Hazel McMaisters, Eliza Thomas and George Griffiths were extended hospitality.

Needlework and conversation made the afternoon pleasant, and problem games were conducted when needles were placed aside. In these Misses Eliza Thomas and Miss Hazel McMaisters received the guest prizes while Mrs. Rish and Mrs. Jacob Hoberman were the most fortunate among the members. Lunch was served in courses and was delicious.

In two weeks Mrs. E. G. Watzell will entertain the members at her East Center street home.

B. O. F. Club Meeting.
The members of the B. O. F. club held a business meeting last evening at the home of Miss Beulah Spencer on Main street. The girls assembled to discuss the plans for the New Year's party. Nothing definite has been decided and arrangements will be completed at a later date. A social hour followed business discussion and the hostess served a plate lunch.

The next meeting will be held in one week.

Health Club Announces Meeting.
The members of the Health and Happiness club will hold a meeting tomorrow evening at the Red Men's hall on South Main street. Miss Pearl Campbell will be in charge of the class and Miss Alice Gabriel will preside at the plans.

Club Meeting Postponed.
The meeting of the Ideal Embroidery club which was announced for yesterday was postponed for one week when Mrs. P. A. Tuttle will be the hostess at her Carlisle street home.

Golden Rod.
Mrs. John Lueden entertained the members of the Golden Rod club at an all-day meeting at her home on North Oak street yesterday. An old-fashioned quilting was the diversion of the morning. The members arrived at an early hour and thoroughly enjoyed the unusual needlework.

At noon the guests were invited to the dining room where an elegant course dinner was served. The table was a long one and was well appointed. Cut flowers with garnishings of fern made artistic decorations. Covers were placed for fifteen.

Following the dinner hour a brief business session was held and the name of Mrs. William Morris was added to the club roster. A contest was held during the afternoon and first club honors were awarded Mrs. Taylor. Mrs. Elmer Parish received the guest prize. A season of chatting and music concluded the enjoyable day.

Guests aside from the members were: Mrs. Samuel Block, Mrs. Elmer Parish and Mrs. Frank Haven.

The next meeting will be held in three weeks, the place to be decided later.

Delegate Goes to National Council.
Miss Rose Rosenberg left yesterday for Philadelphia, where she will attend the National Council of Jewish Women, which will open there Monday, convening for a period of ten days. Miss Rosenberg was sent as a delegate from the Marion council.

From Philadelphia she will go to Baltimore, Maryland, where she will spend five or six weeks.

Bridge at Haberman Home.
The bridge party given by Mrs. Harry Haberman and Mrs. Fred Haberman, Jr., at the former's home on Delaware avenue, is the initial affair of the afternoon among the younger women of the social world.

Research Club Successful Day.
The Research club reported a very successful day at the parish house yesterday, where the Elson art exhibit was on display. Home baking, home made candles and other articles were sold, the half of the proceeds benefiting the research club. Today the Council of Jewish women are in charge of the pictures and musical and special diversions have been inaugurated by the ladies for the pleasure of the callers.

The Women's club will meet at the Parish house tomorrow and cordially invite their friends to be present.

Church Affairs

W. C. T. Union.

Mrs. Enoch Knackie entertained the women of the Florence Richards W. C. T. Union at her home on Herman street, Wednesday afternoon. There was a fine attendance of the members, and the afternoon was spent very agreeably in a short business session and a social hour. Mrs. Knackie presided, and Miss Anna Dille led devotionals. Light refreshments were served by the hostess.

The time of the meeting has been changed from Wednesday to Thursday afternoon, and the society will meet two weeks from this afternoon with Mrs. Edward Schiller, of West Columbia street.

Made Cuckoos for Choir.

The members of the Woman's guild of the St. Paul's Episcopal church held an all-day meeting yesterday at the home of Mrs. Ellen Williams at her home in the Erie block on North State street. This was a work meeting and the members assembled for the purpose of making cuckoos for the choir. The day was a busy one, the work employing the attention of the members till a late hour in the evening. A delicious luncheon at the noon hour was served by the hostess.

Progressive Class Holds Meeting.

The Progressive class, a newly organized society of the David street Baptist church, met for a regular meeting last evening with Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Seigried on David street.

A large number of the members were present.

B. H. Taylor conducted the lesson of the evening. This was an interesting one in which the members took an active part. A business session was held during which Mrs. Emma Hollandshead was elected reporter for the society. A social hour followed and light refreshments were served.

The next meeting will be a business one. The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hollandshead, 841 Henry street, will be the place of meeting on the evening of December 26.

The condition of Mrs. I. A. Mer-chant, of East Center street, who has been ill, is much improved.

William Epling, of Bain avenue, who has been suffering from fever for the past two months is convalescing rapidly.

HEART AND HOME TALKS

Scientifically Securing Greater Efficiency in Work.

SCIENCE has come forward with a most efficient help for securing better results, than has been accomplished in the past, from those who work.

No longer need the mistress of the house abjure Bridget to carry, nor work herself into a state of irritation because of the maid's slowness. Without a word, she can speed her up, until Bridget or Mary or whoever she is will be going at a quickstep and handling her tasks with surprising efficiency. She may wonder herself just what is the matter with her. But she won't be able to stop.

The dressmaker with a workroom full of slow, indifferent girls can in the same silent, scientific fashion spur them on, until needles are flashing, and the girls, in high spirits, are putting forth their very best energies.

The same effect can be secured in an office. In fact, there are few places where this silent aid to efficiency cannot be employed. So far, it has been used only in reference to school children, but now that its ability has been proven, employers will no doubt take advantage of it for getting work out of employees; especially as it is much more certain in its results, and far pleasanter than the usual method of scolding or fault-finding.

For, this new and scientific method is no more or less than electrifying the atmosphere. Experiments have been made upon school children with most gratifying results, and the world at large is now ready to take advantage of what has been demonstrated.

The walls and ceiling of the school-room, where the experiment was tried, were lined with a coil of wire through which a high electric current was passed. The children were thus really in the centre of a magnetized cell. At the end of six months, they showed a most gratifying increase in height and weight and mental proficiency. They worked with unusual alacrity and spirit. The teachers too showed the good effect of working in this electrically charged atmosphere.

So the thing to do now is to conceal electric coils in the kitchen, and cook with a skill she never before knew. She may say to herself "Shure, it's amazin' queer, the way I feel like work." But she will be unable to resist the spell.

Even the office boy, in an office so charged, will fly about in a way almost to cause heart failure from the shock of it, to those unaware of the cause.

Science is coming to our aid in the solving of perplexing problems in ways undreamed of. In this simple device of coils and currents may lie the solution of the maid question. And it may settle many other problems now disturbing us. At any rate, it shows that help can come from unexpected quarters. And so we can go forward upon the difficult path of life with serene faith, feeling assured that out from the unknown will come messengers with help to assist us over the rough places in the road.

HOUSEWIVES FORM MARKET CLUB, PURCHASE AT WHOLESALE, AND HAVE GROCER'S BILLS

Editor's Note:The high cost of living has caused to be a bugbear to a half dozen housekeepers of Brooklyn, N. Y., who have organized a Market Club, and worked out a plan whereby their grocery bill is co-operative, and aims to do away with the middleman, or grocer, by purchasing from the wholesale dealer direct. The original of the plan, Mrs. Enoch Knackie, here explains the methods of the club.

MARKET CLUB PLAN SAVING IN BUYING.
Grocers' Price	Club Price	Market Price
Lettuce, a head, 10c	2 1/2c	3 1/2c
Radishes, bunch, 5c	1c	2 1/2c
Squashes, 1 lb.	4 1/2c	5c
Celery, bunch, 1 lb.	5c	6c
Best butter, 1 lb.	23c	25c
Potatoes, bu., 12 1/2c	$1.25	$1.35
Best eggs, a doz., 10c	25c	30c
Apples, bu., 12 1/2c	50c	55c
Tomatoes, bu., 10c	2c	3c
Cauliflower, 1 lb.	19c	25c

By Mrs. Enoch Knackie.
We tried the market club plan as an experiment and we have found that it has resulted in great savings already. We hope to extend the list of things which we will handle as our experience grows. At present we handle only staple articles, like butter, eggs, rice, beans, canned and bottled goods and all green produce. Later on we will have tea and coffee, hams and bacon, and one day, when everybody is agreed, we will have a chicken day.

We bought turkeys for Thanksgiving and many requests came in from people to buy turkeys for them, though they are not members of the club.

The members of a club like this must live very close to each other, and the membership should go in sixes or dozens, because the articles divide more advantageously that way. We have six members in our club and we find it works out without any difficulty.

The market men are perfectly will-ing to sell to housekeepers at wholesale price, but they can only sell in large quantities—by dozens, crates, bags and barrels. The ordinary housekeeper cannot buy in that quantity because she cannot use the stuff, but it is very easy to divide among a half dozen women who are buying a week's provisions. It was necessary for us to organize under one name, so the accounts could be carried on.

We have today purchased the ac-counts of the Lurie Mercantile agency and all persons indebted to said agency will call and settle at 114 Court street.

The Reliable Collecting Agency, B. Kern, Manager.

ASKS $10,000 FOR CARING FOR RICH RELATIVE

Canton, O., Dec. 7.—Samuel Rudy, 56, eccentric bachelor, who a year ago made a will distributing $10,000 among ten pretty female clerks in the Star county courthouse "because he liked them" is defendant in a suit for $10,000 instituted by Leitia Rudy, a relative, who cared for him for 19 years.

Rudy is bent with age and crippled from attending infirmities and part of the claim of the relative is for feeding him when apoplexy disabled him. Attorneys for Rudy are endeavoring to apply the statute of limitations which allows her payment for only six years because no definite agreement was made as to expiration of their verbal contract of support.

GIRL HAS CHECK OF $5000 COMING

Findlay, O., Dec. 7.—If a young woman whose name, if she is single, would be Lillian Schwab, will communicate to the probate judge of Hancock county, Findlay, Ohio, she will learn where she can get a check for $5,000. The administrator of her mother's estate, George As Snyder, of Findlay, has the money in his hands, which is out of interest.

The young woman is about 24 years old now. When she was a baby, her mother, Caroline Schwab, died in a Toledo hospital, Lillian being brought back to this county, where her mother formerly lived. She was placed in the county infirmary. Snyder was appointed administrator, and when it later years, he began to fathom the estate, found the precious sum. Schwab had left brought the nice sum now awaiting her daughter.

In later years, a man, whose name is remembered as Hamlin, took Lillian from the county infirmary, and it is said took her to Cleveland. At least that is the last place he was heard from.

It is shown by the investigations conducted by scientific expeditions to the Pacific Islands that there is a slow elevation going on there, which by lifting the reefs gradually above the waves, preserves them from erosion at the top and enables vegetation and certain animal forms of a terrestrial character to exist there. This is quite in opposition to Darwin's idea that the atolls were formed by the gradual submergence of small islands and that the coral insects built up encircling reefs as the islands sank.

Oil engines have been used for some time in submarines by the admiralities of all countries save England and the United States.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surface. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them.
